Rival Princes Meet Today

Agreement on Laos May Come Friday

KHANG KHAY, Laos (AP) — Laos' three rival political princes met in the rebel-held Plains Des Jarres today, and neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma said the long-awaited agreement on a coalition government might be reached Friday.

Souvanna said his first meeting with Prince Boun Oum of the right-wing Vientiane government and pro-Communist Prince Sou-hanouong encountered little difficulty.

"If we continue to work in a similar atmosphere, I am sure we will reach a final agreement Friday," Souvanna said.

It was the princes' first meeting since January.

Boun Oum was accompanied to Khang Kay by his deputy premier and royal government strongman Gen. Phoumi Nosavan.

Souvanna's optimism contrasted sharply with a general feeling among diplomats and observers in Vientiane before the meeting that it had little chance of success.

Boun Oum and Gen. Phoumi had given no advance indication that they would back down on the issue that broke up earlier attempts at forming a coalition under Souvanna. The conservative Vientiane leaders had insisted on retaining the defense and interior portfolios in a coalition government to give them control of the army and police.

Opponents of the bill said privately they were convinced now there was a good chance it eventually will be dropped. And Republicans voiced such a demand in floor speeches Wednesday.

However, Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., who opposes the measure's two key provisions, told a reporter the finance committee he heads will continue its consideration of the tax bill.

It was learned the Virginian told Kennedy a few days ago the measure would receive a complete study from his group.

The committee has been giving the bill a slow-motion airing since it started public hearings April 2.

The House passed the measure March 29, keeping the bulk of Kennedy's proposals.

Wednesday's Democratic meeting was in the office of the party's Senate leader, Mike Mansfield of Montana. It was one of the periodic sessions he holds to go over the Senate program and to relay the results of congressional leaders' conferences with President Kennedy.

The tax bill in general was the chief subject of the meeting, with most of the time devoted to the bitterly disputed provision to withhold taxes on dividends and interest.

There also was some discussion of the other major feature, an investment credit to give business a $1.35 billion incentive to modernize its plant and equipment.

The administration believes the credit would go a long way toward making the economy more efficient and productive.

The withholding plan is counted on to help pay for the investment credit.

It was learned that Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Oklahoma, second in seniority on the Democratic side of the finance committee, led off at the meeting with a defense of the withholding plan. He emphasized the present tax losses from un-

None Injured In 3 Traffic Mishaps

No one was hurt in three traffic accidents on area highways Wednesday. Trucks were involved in each of the mishaps.

A pickup truck operated by Albert R. Gifford, 19, of RD 1, North Lima, ran off the Georgetown Rd. and overturned about four miles southwest of Salem at 8:50 a.m.

Gifford was arrested by the State Highway Patrol for speed excessive for conditions. The truck received moderate damage.

A tractor-trailer driven by Ronald E. Albee, 23, of Monticello, Ind., ran off RT. 14 in Negley at 5:50 p.m. and struck a highway route marker sign.

Samuel E. Ward, 77, of RD 2, Columbiana, was cited for failing to yield the right of way after his car collided with a tractor-trailer on RT. 30, about one mile south of RT. 7, at 8:10 p.m.

According to the Patrol, Ward pulled onto the highway in front of the south-bound truck operated by Lawrence McVicker, 35, of Washington, Pa. Damage was moderate as the two vehicles sideswiped.

Juvenile Judge Gets To Seat of Problem

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — Judge John Bronson has added an old fashioned wooden paddle as standard equipment in his Sandusky County Juvenile Court.

The judge said Wednesday the paddle was put to use on four boys who set fire to an old barn.

The boys, 12 to 15 years old, were quite shocked when they heard the decree," Judge Bronson said.

The paddling was administered by juvenile officer Dee Pinneo in the presence of the boy's parents.

Leetonia Council Buys Hose Dryer For Fire Dept.

LEETONIA—Village Council approved the $981 purchase of a hose dryer and hose nozzle for use of the volunteer fire department when councilmen met last night in the mayor's office.

Members heard the first reading of an ordinance prohibiting parking on the south side of Columbia St., from Hazel east to Home St., and on both sides of Home St. to the village limits.

When the Estes scandal broke Ralph volunteered to testify before a Texas court of inquiry about trying on expensive suits in Estes' company. He told the court Estes hadn't bought him the suits though he conceded a tailor marked them for alteration.

Ralph was retained a while, but Secretary Orville L. Freeman fired him May 15, saying Ralph had used a telephone credit card belonging to Estes to charge personal long distance phone calls.

Fruit Spray Is 'Likely' Cause of Boy's Death

The possibility of poisoning from fruit spray containing parathion was being investigated today in the death Wednesday afternoon of 28-month-old Gerry D. Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Phillips of RD 3, Salem.

Dr. William A. Kolozsi, county coroner, who performed an autopsy on the body to determine if parathion actually caused the boy's death, said there is a "likelihood" of spray poisoning.

The autopsy showed only negative evidence and a decision has been deferred pending a study of materials to be sent by the coroner to the Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta.

The youth became ill after playing in mud puddles where sprays are mixed on the George Kornbau fruit farm where his father is employed.

He was rushed to Central Clinic where he died an hour and 20 minutes after his admission after attempts at successful medication failed.

Parathion is a potent insecticide, readily absorbed through the skin.

Youngstown Pupil, Teacher Injured In Science Test

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) —

An acid explosion today injured a teacher and a student at Liberty High School north of here in Trumbull County.

The student, Sam Perry, was most seriously injured. He was reported in poor condition at North Side Hospital, Youngstown, with severe acid burns around the face and scalp and with leg injuries.

The teacher, Frank Gasper, chairman of the Liberty School Science Department, was reported in satisfactory condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The two were throwing away old liquid chemicals in the high school biology laboratory when a bottle containing another substance dropped and broke in the sink.

Fumes from that bottle came in contact with acid, and the resulting reaction sent glass and acid spraying into the faces of the youth and the teacher.

Perhaps You Can Be A Television Author

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — There's a television tale, possibly untrustworthy, about the prolific script writer who turned out mystery stories on a production line basis. His secret was to have his secretary hand him, every few days, three different objects—a fan, a marble and a burned-out flashlight bulb, for example. Then he would proceed to rip off a story around these clues.

Television through the seasons has streamlined the "instant plot" technique to a point where—at least from this viewer's observation post—the script writers can do turn out their daily quota by writing a whole show around a given line of dialogue.

It's really not hard. Just try some of the following tried, true and tired lines yourself. You may discover that you, too, have a future as a TV author.

"You owe me $40,000. Miss Wedd-Jones, and I don't think your father would be very happy to hear you are a compulsive gambler. However, I know a way you can square things—I'll even burn the IOUs."

"I hope you're right in your diagnosis, doctor. But even if we do operate now, it will be tough and go."

"It doesn't matter what he has done, lieutenant. He is entitled to the very best defense we can give him."

"Staying in town long friend? We don't cotton to strangers here much."

Really, there's nothing to it. Shirley Booth's "Hazel" climbed three-day trial in Elyria.

Marilyn Tired, But Studio Is Sick and Tired

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marilyn Monroe says she's sick and her producers say they're sick and tired.

Marilyn, complaining of a virus, showed up only once in the first 15 days of shooting on "Something's Got to Give."

"Even when she does show up," said a high front-office source at 20th Century-Fox, "she isn't prepared for her role. She comes late and leaves early."

The studio source, who asked anonymity, hinted Wednesday that producers are ready to look for a replacement—possibly Kim Novak.

One of the few unconcerned people at the studio is co-star Dean Martin, who is calling himself "the highest paid golfer in the world."

Marilyn herself couldn't be reached for comment.

COURT DENIES APPEAL

CLEVELAND (AP) — The 9th District Court of Appeals has upheld a ruling against Morris Rapoport, manager of a discount store in North Ridgeville accused of violating the Sunday closing law. Rapoport had appealed to the district court after he was found guilty July 17, 1961, after a three-day trial in Elyria.

D-Day Souvenir

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — In our crowded now there is little time for remembrance.

So it was this week the 18th anniversary of the Allied D-Day landings in Normandy caught me by surprise.

Then the feeling of surprise gave way to a feeling of guilt. How, even after 18 years, could I for a moment forget the incidents of that mighty hour?

I went into the kitchen and from a cabinet pulled out an old and time-lovely silver dish, made by a fine craftsman centuries ago.

Things tie us to our past, and this small silver dish is my souvenir of D-Day.

On that fateful morning that now seems so long ago I was in an encampment outside Winchester in southern England. Our group of correspondents was scheduled to go ashore the following day with Gen. Omar Nelson Bradley, the American field commander.

Waiting was hard. A number of us went into town.

We entered famous old Winchester Cathedral, one of the world's most beautiful buildings. Some of us who weren't used to saying prayers said prayers then.

Leaving, we passed a small antique shop. I saw this lovely silver dish in the window, and went in.

long months it was my privilege to help chronicle the unfolding splendor of our men's defeat of the German juggernaut.

It is hard now for me to realize that the great sea armada that forged our landing in France has long since been dismantled. That the vehicles on which we rode to victory are rust. That the armies of men who wielded so tremendous a purpose are forever scattered and can never be bugled together again, not at least as they were then in their prime.

On the morning of the 18th anniversary of D-Day, after looking again at my souvenir silver dish, I went into my living room. I pulled from a shelf a book called "Brave Men," written by a brave, dear dead friend named Ernie Pyle.

I opened it a trandom, and these words caught my eye:

"We have won this war because our men are brave, and because of many other things—because of Russia, and England, and the passage of time, and the gift of nature's materials. We did not win it because destiny created us better than all other peoples. I hope that in victory we are more grateful than we are proud. I hope we can rejoice in victory—but humbly. The dead men would not want us to gloat.

"All of us together will have to learn how to reassemble our broken world into a pattern so firm and so fair that another great war cannot soon be possible. To tell the simple truth, most of us over in France don't pretend to know the right answer. Submersion in war does not necessarily qualify a man to be the master of the peace. All we can do is fumble and try once more—to try out of the memory of our anguish—and be as tolerant with each other as we can."

PREDICTS DEMS VICTORY

MARYSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Robert W. Reider, publisher of the Port Clinton Daily News, has lauded State Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman and predicted the party will conduct its biggest precinct level campaign in history this fall.

Speaking Wednesday night at a Jefferson - Jackson Day dinner here, Reider said the campaign will bring "a massive victory explosion at the ballot box for Gov. door."

Gratitude For the Difference!

Comment on the securities slide that started and stopped last week continues to run strongly toward the difference between 1962 and 1929.

As the Frenchman exclaimed when the professor summed up his explanation of the physiological characteristics of men and women by saying the difference actually was quite small, "Vive la difference!"

In this instance, the difference is substantial.

Market experts do not believe another 1929 is in the ticker tape. They warn against unrealistic views of market behavior, as they have been doing for many months. The bull market that has been building since September 1960 reached its peak last November. There was a sharp break last March. There were four major setbacks and three minor rallies before the May 28 slide that wiped out more than $20 billion in paper profits.

When more than $14 billion of what had been wiped out on Monday was restored on Tuesday when big investors came into the market in search of bargains, confidence was restored. But prudent experts do not believe investors have seen the last of the ups and downs that may be expected in 1962.

THEY ARE concentrating hard on factors that can be expected to minimize the ups and downs this year—the existence of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the current high level of taxation that penalizes profit-taking, the way about one-third of all stocks are held by such institutional investors as banks, insurance companies, college endowment funds, mutual funds, pensions and profit-sharing trusts.

They point to restrictions on borrowing and to the greater sophistication of small part-time participants in the securities market. True, there has been a great surge of what can be described only as stock market "gambling," but it has been accompanied by a great surge of stock market "investing." Institutional buyers are less interested in quick profits than in sound growth. Banks and investment companies do not move in and out of the securities market; they are in to stay. Investors Diversified Services, a $4 billion outfit, is reported to have put $20 million into the market on May 28 and 29.

THE FACT remains that as canny an investor as Bernard M. Baruch likes sudden market breaks in his "My Own Story" to the "migration of birds or the mass performances of whole species of ocean eels."

Mr. Baruch explains what happens when the market breaks: "A bull market will be sweeping along and then something will happen—trivial or important—and first one man will sell and then others will sell, and the continuity of thought toward higher prices is broken."

Since 1929, some of the disaster potential has been taken out of the stock market by improved regulations, procedures, safeguards and knowledge of what to expect. The birds and the eels are still there, but there is a difference in how high they can fly and how far they can wriggle.

Something Lost In Translation

One of the unfortunate occurrences of sensitive international relations was that press conference held by France's President de Gaulle on May 15. Reports of his comments have varied so widely that the French embassy in this country has distributed transcripts to correct what may have been errors in translation and interpretation.

President de Gaulle did not serve notice that France was about to go it alone in Europe, or that a Franco-German "axis" was ready to dominate European political action.

The gist of his remarks, which frequently partook of the air of mysticism that has been his trademark in French politics, is contained in this sequence:

"I do not believe that Europe can have any living reality if it does not include France and her Frenchmen, Germany and its Germans, Italy and its Italians and so forth. Dante, Goethe, Chateaubriand belong to all Europe to the very extent that there were respectively and eminently Italian, German & French. They would not have served Europe very well if they had been stateless, or if they thought and written in some kind of integrated Esperanto of Volapuk."

"But it is true that the nation is a human and sentimental element, whereas Europe can be built on the basis of active, authoritative & responsible elements. What elements? The states, of course; for, in this respect it is only the states that are valid, legitimate and capable of achievement. What is happening with regard to the Economic Community proves this every day, for it states, and only the states, that created this Economic Community, that furnished it with funds, that provided it with staff members; and it is the states that give it reality and efficiency, all the more so as it is impossible to take any far-reaching economic measure without committing a political action."

Old-timers in the House of Representatives see no future in a proposal by a freshman member, Rep. Walter L. McVey of Kansas, to ban shorts as apparel for visitors to the Capitol.

A few years ago the Senate backed away from an identical proposal that would have banned shorts on adults permitted to enter the visitors' gallery. Senators went so far as to reach a decision, then relented when their constituents hit the warpath.

The customers are always right.

Members of Congress, like the rest of us, may wish both men and women would use more discretion about where they appear in shorts. They may wish — also like the rest of us — that both sexes would heed their appearance in full-length mirrors before inflicting themselves on the public gaze.

But the harsh truth is that shorts and the wrong people who wear them in the wrong places are here to stay. We cannot wish them out of existence. We cannot legislate them out of existence.

Nothing There

At last the fabulous pup and I are looking at each other with a mellow light of understanding in our eyes. My eyes more than hers, I hasten to say, because she always did understand me but only recently have I begun to understand her because I finally have understood me.

About the digging, I mean.

Ever since the weather turned nice the pup has redoubled her efforts as an excavator. As the dirt grew softer, she grew stronger. Instead of digging many little holes she dug fewer holes—but vastly larger.

Mounds of dirt appeared all over the place, especially in the flower garden. Conditions grew so bad that on arriving home after a hard day at the pizza works I'd look for a fresh pile of dirt and, seeing one, would leap out of the car and pound on her, screaming, "No, no, no, you unprintable, unmentionable, indescribable so and so! Either you quit digging or I will break your back." It was a ridiculous threat.

It would take a freshly sharpened elephant hook to make any impression on her and a beating with my clenched fist had no more effect than a pitter-patter rain drops on a concrete slab. This is a very strong dog—so strong that when we try to make her lie down we end up on the floor instead, while she licks us.

The only time we ever got through to her with a message was when the animal trainer I live with took off a spear-heeled shoe and wedged the heel between a couple of her slats to keep from being roll-blocked on her way to the ear. The pup now respects spear-heeled shoes.

Inside Labor

Some of the bankers at numbers 23 and 44 Wall Street have been telephoned regularly by the "inner" White House. There have been queries about business' pique at the Kennedy administration and why not nudge a few in financial circles and industrial sanctums into smoothing out matters. Phone calls also have gone the other way. From, for example, the National Association of Manufacturers via proper channels requesting a conference with President Kennedy to talk things over.

All this has been observed by a third force whose leaders got blue in the face, like all of us, when Wall Street's blue chips took a dive for the canvas.

That third force which has a mighty investment stake on "The Street" is labor. It's people have a sharp interest in some $2 billion dollars worth of common stocks alone.

Not generally known, this. But here's where all the money and investments come from: There now is at least 60 billion dollars in private (nongovernmental) pension fund assets.

ACTUALLY no one really knows exactly how many billions there are in these retirement caches. The Labor Department has been counting for months. They have about 160,000 pension systems on file. And they don't really know how many have not yet bothered to report.

From all the official briefings I've had, I gather there will be about $100 billion in pension pools by the early '70s.

That's more money than Billie Sol Estes had fertilizer. But this figure is a scientific forecast by the nation's best informed pension experts.

Some of these pension funds cover union and nonunion workers and are run directly by corporations through banks.

Some—totalling high in the billions of dollars—are administered by joint labor-management trustees.

All this has been observed by a third force whose leaders got blue in the face, like all of us, when Wall Street's blue chips took a dive for the canvas.

That third force which has a mighty investment stake on "The Street" is labor. It's people have a sharp interest in some $2 billion dollars worth of common stocks alone.

Not generally known, this. But here's where all the money and investments come from: There now is at least 60 billion dollars in private (nongovernmental) pension fund assets.

THESE FUNDS must not be confused with the billions of dollars in the general assets and monies of union treasuries. The billions referred to here on the pension funds alone.

The unions rarely put their multi-million dollar treasures and strike funds into common stock.

They go mostly for government securities. These can be converted into liquid cash in a hurry—to pay out strike benefits, for example.

But the pension funds, with labor's approval, have gone heavily into the "market." Last year these labor-management funds bought slightly more than $2 billion worth of blue chip stock. This was more than any other group in the United States spent for common shares.

This $2 billion came to fully 40 per cent of the total amount of new shares put on the market in 1961.

So all private pension funds now hold well over 21 billion dollars worth of common stock, in all, for they have been buying for years.

THESE PURCHASES have been so heavy that one union has long been thinking of buying a seat on the Stock Exchange itself.

But there's more. These pension funds also buy heavily into corporate bonds. Last year these funds, again with the approval of the labor trustees whenever they sat on the joint boards, bought more than a billion dollars worth of the best corporate bonds. This was second only to what the life insurance business bought.

Specifically how much of this type of corporate securities the pension funds hold, has not been fully reckoned. But there is a guide.

Back in 1960, those labor-management funds which set up their own private pension systems, already owned $13 billion dollars worth. This is only a small part of the pension business. So the figure, when finally set, will go higher than Carpenter and Glenn.

That's why, in addition to the White House and the banking houses, the "House of Labor" also watched the "market" closely last week. Lots of people on lots of sides are in this together.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I was interested in your advice to the teen-ager who insisted he could study only when the radio, hifi or TV was going full blast. His mother didn't believe him. You suggested he retrain himself to study in peace and quiet.

As a psychologist who has spent a lifetime learning and teaching industry how to get maximum efficiency out of employees I'd like to point out that peace and quiet have been vastly overrated.

Music is a natural tranquilizer. Our studies show that factories and offices which have installed piped-in music are delighted with the increased efficiency and the improved dispositions of the employees. As an authority on the subject I can tell you that this is not just an intellectual theory. It actually works.—M.C.

Dear M.C.: Thanks you for writing. The following letter is from one of those happy, efficient employees who has been listening to piped-in music. So she, too, is an authority.

Dear Ann: Last fall our office manager decided we all needed music to calm our nerves and lift our spirits.

For the first week it was sort of a novelty. Everyone hummed, whistled or tapped his toes. Some of the younger ones dance. I didn't mind, although it was somewhat distracting. I kept telling myself I'd get used to it. I never quite made it.

So I can neither wear them nor can I part with them. Please help me.—S.P.F.

Dear S.P.F.: I can't help you, but you can help yourself and you must. Got to the telephone this very minute and call Good Will Industries. Give them all the clothing to which you attach mother-memories.

Consider it an act of charity.

It's unhealthy to hang on to bits and pieces of the past as you are doing. This is not reverence, it's morbidity.

Confidentially

TO WHICH WAY TO GO: Parents who would give a 15-year-old girl permission to marry need to have their heads examined. And your son must have bats in the hatches, too. A man 24 years old who would consider such a thing sounds like a such as arrested development.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems.

Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamp and self-addressed envelope.

Tied to the Past

Dear Ann: I'm almost ashamed to write about this, even though you may tell me I'm childish.

My mother died several months ago following a long illness. At this moment I have in my closet several dresses and suits which I wore when I visited my mother in the hospital and when I cared for her at home. The dress I wore to her funeral also is hanging there.

I can't bring myself to wear any of these clothes, although they are stylish and in excellent condition. I've started to give them away but I can't seem to do this either.

I can neither wear them nor can I part with them. Please help me.—S.P.F.

Matter of Fact

Catgut, a cord of great toughness and tenacity, is prepared from the intestines of sheep, or occasionally from those of the horse, mule or ass. Best strings for musical instruments are imported from Italy and it is found that lean and ill-fed animals yield the toughest gut, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

I for one, just cannot make myself believe that Mr. Johnson would advocate the old German Dr. Olsner's theory that all people should be put to death at 65 years, as they were through with their productive years and a burden on the country.

His attitude and the attitude of the party he seems to represent are really hard to understand.

Kennedy is making his first try for public office.

McCormack was elected to the Boston City Council three times starting in 1953, was elected attorney general to fill a vacancy in 1958, and won reelection for two-year terms twice after that.

The convention decision is not final. The winner of the endorsement automatically gets first place on the ballot for the party primary in September. The loser may contest the endorsed candidate by filing nomination papers with 2,500 signatures.

Both Kennedy and McCormack have indicated they will fight it out in the primary regardless of the convention decision.

Firemen Lieutenant Exam Set Tonight

A Civil Service examination for lieutenant in the fire department will be held at 7:30 tonight at City Hall.

A vacancy in the lieutenant ranks will occur when one of the two officers who hold that rank now takes over as fire chief, succeeding Clarence Wright who retired earlier this year.

Paul Fogg, chairman of the Salem Civil Service Commission, says the man who made the best score in the fire chief examination last Thursday will be determined tonight when the two men who took the test, L. Amil Comma and Lt. Elmer Bush, will be allowed to go over their papers with the Civil Service board.

Bush has been serving as provisional chief since Wright retired in March.

Thoughts

Keep your life free from love or money, and be content with what you have; for He has said, I will never fail you nor forsake you—Hebrews 13:5.

A contented mind is the greatest blessing a man can enjoy in this world; and if, in the present life, his happiness arises from the subduing of his desires, it will rise to the next from the gratification of them.—Joseph Addison.

with representatives from the Ohio Highway Department, the Pennsylvania Railroad and Rackoff Associates, engineers for the project.

After inspecting the proposed location of the bridge section of the overpass, both the Highway Department and the Pennsylvania Railroad gave their approval of the site.

The engineers were told to make only some minor changes in the engineering plans.

Highway Department officials told Mayor Cranmer that the estimated $1.3 million should be under contract by Nov. 1.

Covered Bridges Pictures Viewed By Lisbon Group

LISBON — Thirty-eight members and friends heard T. J. Malone of Homeworth speak on covered bridges at a meeting of the Lisbon Historical Society Tuesday night in the high school.

He showed pictures and his wife described them. Mr. Malone is a member of the Northern Ohio Covered Bridge Society and the national society.

He said that Ohio ranks next to Pennsylvania in the number of covered bridges in the United States. Vermont has many, including a railroad bridge of 400 feet. New York state has the longest one, 228 feet.

Columbiana County has six covered bridges at the present time and there are seven double covered bridges in the state, he reported. One of the older covered bridges in Columbiana County is the Cold Run and West Fork bridge which was built in 1878.

Eight large water colors of covered bridges painted by Mrs. Audrey Blockson were on display for the group. Mr. Malone also showed a picture of Mrs. Blockson's art class painting pictures of a covered bridge.

Election of officers will be held at the society's next meeting Sept. 4 at the Old Stone House on E. Washington St. which is open to the public Friday afternoon and evening and also Sunday afternoon.

More Youths Than Jobs

American Teenagers Start Search for Summer Work

By The Associated Press

America's teen-agers apparently do not believe that the best things in life are free.

Not many of them, as they pour out of the nation's high schools and colleges for summer vacations, are dreaming of a shady river bank and fishing pole.

They are more likely to be dreaming of hustling boxes in a warehouse, sitting behind a desk in an office, running a tractor, or any of a hundred other occupations.

When school's out, they want the money coming in.

A Connecticut employment official disagrees. It's not lack of something to do, he says, but simply money that sends the boys and girls out to hunt jobs.

College expenses are going up of World War II. The same popu-every year; he says, and young-sters now feel they must have things once considered luxuries—television sets, radios, cars.

Dr. Lawrence Shepoiser, public school superintendent at Wichita, Kan., thinks the teen-agers get "fed up with working just with their heads, with abstract, academic courses."

"They need and want laboratory experience, working with their hands—and they have an impelling desire to earn their own money and to be independent," he said.

Practically all the experts point out that, in addition to the other reasons cited, there's a simple statistical reason for so many youthful job-hunters—the fact that there was a baby boom at the end of World War II. The same population explosion that jams the schools the rest of the year is jamming the employment offices now.

And the sad fact is that in practically all areas of the country, only a fraction of those seeking full-time jobs will find them.

The Texas Unemployment Commission has put a new group of youth coordinators on the job after its experience last year, when it was able to find 3,170 permanent jobs and 1,838 summer jobs for young people—but had 16,000 applicants.

Florida's State Employment Service estimates that only one out of three teen-aged job seekers found work last summer, and this summer will be about the same.

A New York state employment official, Alex Altheim, says that despite an extensive program of farm work for city boys, and various types of "made" summer work, "we couldn't possibly cope with the demand even if our entire staff was working only on summer jobs and not taking care of others at all."

Russell Hand, manager of the Omaha office of the Nebraska State Employment Service, makes a similar prediction—only about one-third of the expected 3,500 applicants will find jobs.

One big reason why it will be tough for the teen-agers to find jobs is that it is tough for many of their elders. In sections where adult unemployment is too high, employers who must pay minimum wages are more inclined to hire adults, even for seasonal work.

Mechanization on the farm has eliminated countless jobs, like the bean picking in Wisconsin that used to attract many youths, but is now done by machine.

Princess Grace Won't Play In Hitchcock Movie

NICE, France (AP)—Princess Grace of Monaco says she definitely will not play in Alfred Hitchcock's film "Marnie." She indicated she probably has retired from the movies permanently.

The former Grace Kelly announced two months ago that she would make her return to the screen this summer in the Hitchcock movie. Later the British director said he had postponed the production.

The newspaper Nice Matin, published an interview today with Princess Grace.

"On the one hand I will not have time and on the other I have been definitely influenced by the reaction provoked in Monaco at the announcement of my participation in the making of this film," she said.

"Such a 'vacation' devoted to the cinema would have been amusing for me, but under the condition that the prince (her husband, Prince Rainier) and our children be present. That is not possible, and I would not care to go without them. Making a film takes much time nowadays and

Man To Continue Custody Case Fight

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—A court has ordered 11-year-old Anne Sandage restored to her mother's home at Oxford, Ohio, but her father says he'll continue his fight for her custody to Ohio courts.

Dr. Curtis Sandage, 42, a Kansas City bacteriologist, also faces child stealing charges in Ohio for whisking his brilliant, emotional daughter away from her school at Oxford Feb. 8.

He sought legal custody in a Kansas City court action on the ground that Mrs. Irma Sandage, 41, a psychiatric social worker, has neglected to provide proper supervision for the girl. Dr. and Mrs. Sandage were divorced in 1959.

Judge Joe H. Swinehart, after hearing evidence off and on for more than a month, decided Wednesday that Sandage failed to prove his charge and Anne would be better off with her mother.

Anne told her father goodbye, tearfully, in a court anteroom and left with her mother. They were smiling and arm in arm.

After bidding goodbye to Anne, Sandage approached Judge Swinehart and said:

"Do you know what you have done? I suppose it was based on law, but it was cold . . ."

Farm Worker Faces Many Hazards

Having been city born and bred, I did not realize the hardships and risks of farm life until I moved to the country 15 years ago. I was particularly impressed with a recent article on occupational health in agriculture.

This article explores why so little attention has been given to the health of the farm worker.

The farmer is an independent operator with a relatively small operation. His home and workshop are combined. Child labor laws do not apply. The work week is not limited.

Because of work crises, due to changes in rainfall, soil conditions, machinery breakdowns and seasonal demands, the work day may begin before dawn and go on into the night (especially since tractors and combines are electrically lighted).

Safety equipment is not furnished nor are safety rules enforced as in supervised industries. Because of distances, first aid and other medical services are not readily available.

WHAT MAKES THE situation all the worse is the fact that farm accidents, in the home as well as in the field, rank in frequency only less than those that occur in mining and construction. When these accidents occur, it is often impossible for the farmer to leave what he's doing to seek competent medical and surgical care.

Sanitation cannot be as well supervised and controlled as in an urban community. In addition, the farmer's occupation exposes him and his family to greater risks from dusts and poisons that may produce hypersensitivity reactions (allergies); to chemicals such as insecticides, rat poisons (rodenticides), fumigants, pesticides, fertilizers, herbicides, etc.; and to diseases transmitted by animals (zoonoses). These include anthrax (malignant pustule), tetanus (lockjaw), brucellosis (Bang's disease), tuberculosis, the diarrheal disorders (salmonelloses, infections (cattle mastitis), worm infestations (richinosis) and fungus diseases of the lungs ("farmer's lung").

While governmental agencies are working with all the forces at their disposal to protect and care for the agriculturists, the small farmer and his wife, in particular, must be alerted to the risks that threaten them and their household and to the available agencies and means for protection and disposal.

Red China Wants 'Credit' From Japan's Businessmen

By JACK RUSSELL

Herald Tribune News Service

TOKYO—Red China wants Japanese businessmen to offer "easy credit terms" on sales to the Communist mainland.

However, the Japanese government appears to be shying away from any quick decision to allow the Chinese to buy on deferred payments despite a clamor for easing restrictions by Japanese trading firms.

Foreign Minister Zenitaro Kosaka recently denied that any agreement had been reached on a cabinet level and said the matter was still being discussed.

However, reliable Foreign Ministry sources say "eventually the government will give its approval" because Japan cannot ignore the possibilities of boosting trade to Red China.

DESPITE THE piddling trade with China since World War II, the Japanese still dream of opening the "big China market." They cannot forget the "good old days" before the war, when 30 per cent of Japan's total trade was with China and Japanese-occupied Manchuria.

With the pressure on to attain an export target of $4,700,000,000 during the current fiscal year, which began April 1, Japanese trading companies are looking hopefully toward Communist China. And the Chinese Communists are flitting back.

But reliable government sources said the gentlemen in Peiping are pressuring for concession. The Chinese Communists are telling Japanese traders that they want to buy now and pay later.

ACCORDING TO these sources, the Reds claim that NATO nations of Western Europe are offering deferred payment contracts, so why can't the Japanese?

Japanese businessmen, ever anxious to up their so far disappointing trade with China mainland, are now knocking hard at the doors of government for action.

They demand that the Japanese government allow them to export on a deferred payment basis to Communist China as Japan does to many other nations.

However, government sources point out that adverse repercussions diplomatically with Nationalist China and "perhaps even the United States" must be considered.

IT IS GENERALLY understood that the Ministry of International agreement broke down in 1958, Communist China began to stamp certain Japanese firms as "friendly" companies—permitted them to do business in Red China. There are now approximately 130 such companies in Japan.

Officials Say Heart Attack Killed Luciano

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—Charles (Lucky) Luciano died last Jan. 26 on a heart attack and not from poison, an official Italian medical report said today.

There had been reports both here and in the United States that the former New York vice lord might have been poisoned to seal his lips, or taken poison to escape arrest.

When he staggered and fell dead at Naples Airport, he was being shadowed by Italian narcotics agents. They had questioned him a few hours earlier. A U.S. Bureau of Narcotics official indicated later that Luciano's arrest had been imminent.

A preliminary medical report said the 64-year-old deported gangster had suffered a heart attack. Afterward, however, Rome newspapers carried reports that Luciano might have died of poison.

Graham Assistant Says Roles May Be Switched 'Above'

CHICAGO (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham has an assistant who says their roles may be reversed when they get to heaven.

Cliff Barrows, who directs the 2,000-voice choir for Graham's 19-day Crusade for Christ in Chicago, says: "I tell Billy that when we get to heaven, there won't be any need for his preaching. But there will be plenty of music, and maybe they'll put me in charge."

Barrows joined the Graham organization while on his honeymoon in 1945. Barrows and his wife decided to attend a youth conference in Asheville, N.C., at which a young evangelist, Billy Graham, was speaking.

When the regular song leader didn't show up, Graham asked Barrows, an ordained Baptist minister, to take over. He has been with Graham ever since.

Barrows also directs "The Hour of Decision" radio and television programs.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrows are parents of five children, including a son born Wednesday. The boy, Graham announced to 29,000 persons at Wednesday night's rally at McCormick Place, has been named in honor of the evangelist.

Graham said in his sermon there is a movement afoot in America "to take the Bible out of our national life."

"If this movement succeeds," Graham declared, "then 'In God we trust' will be removed from the courtroom, future presidents will be sworn in with their hands on the Constitution, and chaplains will disappear from the Congress and the armed forces."

Graham said, "If the Bible goes down, then anarchy will rear its ugly head. This will be followed by savagery such as the earth has never known. This generation must face the fact that it is either back to the Bible or back to the jungle."

longest distance (80 miles); North Lima for best equipped truck; Mechanicstown for best equipped emergency car; Waynesburg for the newest truck; and Glenmoor, most comic track.

Other marching units besides bands were the East Palestine V.F.W. color guard, the Jewellettes of Negley, Boy Scout Troop 96 sponsored by the Negley fire department, United Local School Drillers, Negley Rainbow Girls, Minerva Juniores, the Janeettes of East Palestine, Campfire girls and Bluebirds.

Farm Transferred to United School Area

The Columbiana County Election Board was advised indirectly today that the County Board of Education has transferred the Edwin Copeland farm in Franklin Township from the Southern Local School District to the United Local District.

Word of the transfer was contained in a copy of a letter which the school board sent to County Auditor Kenneth Bell. It was signed by Supt. J. L. McBride.

The Election Board was advised because of the transfer's effect on future election procedures. It was reported unofficially the shift was made to enable the Copeland family to send their children to the United Local High School near Hanoverton instead of Salineville High, which has Southern Local students.

Southern Local has no high school.

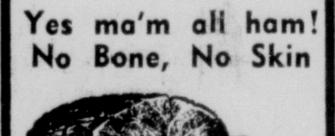

Braniff international airways was founded on June 20, 1928.

Trade and Industry is on the side of the businessmen. Sources report that it backs a plan to allow the Japanese to sell machinery, rolled steel and plant equipment on deferred payment for a period of five years. The Japanese would be required to obtain letters of credit from the Central Bank of Communist China, underwritten by a third bank, probably in Hong Kong.

But the easing of trade restrictions with Red China could touch off a dangerous reaction in Nationalist China, which Japan recognizes diplomatically as the only legitimate Chinese government. The Nationalist Chinese have the power to make more than diplomatic protests. Formosa consistently has bought far more from Japan than Communist China. Last year, the Nationalists imported $96,000,000 worth of products from Japan—more than five times as much in dollar value as the Chinese Communists imported.

ALTHOUGH TRADE with Red China shot up in fiscal 1961, it still was relatively small compared to Japan's total export of $4,200,000,000 imports of $5,800,000,000. Japan imported about $31,000,000 from Red China—mainly soybeans, salt, coal, iron ore and textile raw materials and exported about $17,000,000 worth of machinery, steel materials, textiles and other goods to Red China in fiscal 1961. The trade registered a marked rise over fiscal 1960 when imports were $21,000,000 and exports only $3,000,000.

Currently the Japanese are trading with Red China on a contract by contract basis. After negotiations for a fourth trade

Now Nurses' Uniforms Aren't Uniform

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

Today's angel of mercy in starched white cap may carry her thermometer in a Dior-inspired dress, or a sleeveless "little nothing" blouse costume made popular by Jacqueline Kennedy.

A modern day nurse has more than 100 styles of "work dresses" to choose from. These are uniform in no other way except that they are white, washable and becoming.

However, in Europe during the early centuries women who administered to the sick purposely wore quaint gowns and bonnets dress regulations for its members on private nursing duty.

For a brief period in the Fourth century, a time of great religious zeal, nursing garments were rich and ornately decorated, because the wearers were wealthy women caring for the sick and poor as penance.

The simplest and coarsest religious garb was worn a little later when monasticism was the prevailing influence.

Perhaps the first white angels were nurses in the Hotel Dieu in Paris in 1527. White clothing was decreed for them to promote propriety while outside of the hospital loose morals were hired. Having no pride in their profession, they lacked a reason for wearing any identifying uniform.

It took the heroism of Florence Nightingale during the Crimean War to dignify nursing again.

Re-establishment of dress regulations followed. Quakeress Elizabeth Fry, an English prison reformer, founded the Institution of Nursing Sisters, specifying that the ladies wear neat and becoming uniforms.

Conforming to dress did not immediately appeal to American women. Then a prominent, fashion-conscious young lady appeared at Bellevue hospital to lend a philanthropic hand looking so fetching and all the nurses copied her dress. She was wearing a blue and white striped gown with white apron and a cap.

However by the time the 20th century was well under way nursing schools and hospitals were stipulating crisp, practical, sanitary white uniforms.

Even 40 years ago there were less than a handful of sizes and styles to select from. These were made from heavy white cotton which had to be starched and laboriously ironed.

Today the nurse who wears a mite-sized 5 or a mighty-sized 52 can choose among more than 100 couturier-inspired styles, some permanently starched, almost all wash'n'wear, and a few even stretchable.

Nonconforming uniform makers are trying hard to give the style-conscious woman one more reason why she should select a nursing career during the current critical shortage.

Nixon, Brown Working For Governor's Race

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Richard M. Nixon have their work cut out for them in primary election results still accumulating today.

The Democratic governor's immediate job was to decide whether he'll call a special session of the legislature to resubmit defeated state bond issues to the November ballot.

Brown said he would announce his decision within a few days.

Nixon's obvious assignment was to try and unite the Republican party behind his candidacy for governor. He expressed confidence GOP regulars and conservatives would patch up their differences.

Nixon, who defeated conservative Assemblyman Joseph C. Shell off Los Angeles by 2 to 1 in the GOP gubernatorial primary, outlined plans for a harmony meeting with party leaders and candidates soon.

Shell, the choice of 35 per cent of the Republican voters, telegraphed his congratulations to Nixon Wednesday. But again he hedged on planting his banner in J. F. Coleman 126841, Gabriel Green 129,376.

Yanks Bump Tribe Out of 1st Place, 5-0

Ralph Terry
Hurls 4-Hitter

Ty Cline Injured;
Won't Play Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — The Cleveland Indians have tumbled from first place in the American League because they could not cope with the New York Yankees' pitching or home run power.

By winning 5-0 Wednesday, the Yanks took a one-game edge on the Tribe, which has now lost three straight. Cleveland rookie Ty Cline was injured and will be out of the lineup at least until this weekend.

Yankee righthander Ralph Terry pitched a four-hitter. He was involved in a scoreless duel with Jim (Mudcat) Grant until the last of the sixth inning, when Roger Maris and John Blanchard connected for back-to-back homers.

The Yanks added the final three runs in the eighth off Gary Bell and Bob Allen.

Terry, now 7-4, struck out 10 Indians and walked one, retiring 16 men in order during one stretch.

Grant, finishing a 30-day leave from the Army, left for Ft. Belvoir, Va., after the game. It was his first loss in four decisions. He worked seven innings, allowed five hits, two runs and four walks. He fanned five.

Cline, 22-year-old center fielder, aggravated a hip wound in the first. He went to one knee for Elston Howard's fly, and was forced to leave the game in the third inning. He recently had minor surgery on his hip for removal of a blood clot.

The Tribe, still holding a 5-3 season edge over the Yanks, sends Jim Perry (4-2) against the Yanks' Bill Stafford (4-3) in the series windup tonight.

Move to Within Half-Game of Giants

Dodgers Sweep Pair From Bucs, 8-3, 5-3

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Operation overhaul has moved into its second stage for the Los Angeles Dodgers, tearing toward the top again in that two-team struggle for supremacy in the National League.

Reeling off their second victory streak in an attempt to catch front-running San Francisco, the Dodgers upped their latest string to four games by winning a pair from Pittsburgh Wednesday night, 8-3 in the completion of Tuesday's suspended game and 5-3 in the regulation contest.

The Giants, who have held first place since April 30, lost to the Chicago Cubs 4-3.

St. Louis dropped third-place Cincinnati 7½ games back by edging the Reds 4-3, Milwaukee extended the Mets' losing skid to 17, sweeping a twin-nighter 2-0 and 2-1.

The Dodgers snapped a 1-1 tie in the seventh inning of the regulation game on Ron Fairly's two-run homer off Joe Gibbon (0-1), then put it away with two in the eighth. The Pirates chased rookie Moeller (4-4) in the ninth free pass to Don Landrum to break a 3-3 tie as Lou Brock crossed with the winner. Dick Stuart's single before Ron Perriso came on to get the final out.

In the one-inning windup of the suspended game, the Dodgers tacked on a run while Sany Koufax set the Pirates down in order to preserve the victory for Don Drysdale (9-3). Bob Friend (5-7) was the loser.

Giants reliever Don Larsen (3-1) walked four consecutive Cub batters in the ninth, giving the last free pass to Don Landrum to break a 3-3 tie as Lou Brock crossed with the winner. Dick Stuart's single before Ron Perriso came on to get the final out.

Red Schoendienst's pinch-hit single drove in the run that snapped a 2-2 tie in the seventh and the Cards added the clincher against the Reds in the eighth on a single by Stan Musial and three walks by Stan Musial and three walks by Joey Jay (8-5). Larry Jackson (5-6) went the route for the victory.

Making his first start since April 29 for Milwaukee, Lew Burdette allowed a dozen hits. An eight-hit attack was enough to beat the Colts. Jim Golden (3-3) was the loser.

Tight pitching won both games for the Phils with Cal McLish (5-1) grabbing the opener with a seven-hitter and Art Mahaffey (6-7) nailing the nightcap with a four-hitter. In the first game Roger Craig (2-8) took the loss. Wes Covington tagged Al Jackson (2-7) with the second game defeat when he lashed a pinch-hit single to score Bob Oldis in the ninth and break a 1-1 deadlock.

Two-Sided

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. — (NEA) — Playing in a left-handed foursome at the Century Country Club in Scottsdale, Johnny Bulla shot 32-34-66.

Two days later in a pro-amateur tournament over the same course, Bulla, playing right-handed, shot 33-34-67. Par for the course is 72.

Old-timers doubt that there is another golfer who could match this accomplishment of the former touring professional.

Olmstead May Be Next Ranger Coach

MONTREAL (AP) — Bert Olmstead a tough competitor who has played for five Stanley Cup champions, is first in line today to succeed former teammate Doug Harvey as coach of the New York Rangers.

Olmstead, 5-year-old left wing, was obtained by the Rangers from Toronto Wednesday in the National Hockey League's annual draft. Nine players switched teams in the draft and three in a trade. The Rangers also acquired Bronco Horvath, a center, from the Chicago Black Hawks.

Boston and Detroit, both shut out of the playoffs last season, did the most business, each drafting three men.

"We must seriously consider Olmstead for the coaching job because of his leadership qualities," said Muzz Patrick, the Rangers' general manager. "We need a take-charge guy now that Harvey is gone."

Harvey resigned Monday night after one season as player-coach.

Ben has a good one that he will.

Ben and his father, Dr. M. A. Northrup, are both entered in the 154-pound class at the National AAU wrestling championships being held at the New York Athletic Club. The odds are very good that they'll meet each other before the five-day meet is over.

Ben is 28, his father 53.

Does Ben have any plans to take it easy on the old man if they meet on the mat?

"I can't afford to," said Ben with a smile. "First, he's too tough, and second, this is an elimination tournament. You've got to try for a fall against every opponent."

Harvey resigned Monday night after one season as player-coach.

Split With Red Sox Drops Tigers Into 4th Place

Jim Kaat Pitches Twins Into 3rd

By JIM HACKLEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

American League pitchers, hit unmercifully in that record home run barrage of last year, seem to be coming back into their own.

Pitching certainly was the key Wednesday with star performers ranging from Ralph Terry of New York's front-running Yankees to Claude Osteen of Washington's last-place Senators.

Terry turned in a four-hitter as the Yankees broke their first-place deadlock with Cleveland, beating the Indians 5-0. Jim Kaat pitched a five hit shutout for Minnesota in a 7-0 victory that pushed the Twins into third.

Jim Bunning went 11 strong innings in Detroit's 3-2 decision over Boston for a split of their day-night doubleheader. The Red Sox shaded the Tigers in the afternoon game 2-1 on Bill Monbouquette's pitching and Frank Malzone's ninth inning homer.

Ken McBride again proved a jinx against his former club, out dueling Ray Herbert as the Los Angeles Angels edged the Chicago White Sox 1-0. And Osteen and the Senators beat Baltimore 2-1.

Terry, now 7-4, struck out 10 ninth against Dick Hall.

The Yankees were checked on three hits by Jim (Mudcat) Grant until the sixth, when back-to-back homers by Roger Maris and John Blanchard gave them control.

The Twins took command early, rapping A's ace Jerry Walker for eight hits and six runs before chasing him in the fourth.

In Detroit's overtime squeaker against Boston the Tigers pushed across the winner in the eleventh against reliever Dick Radatz on Norm McAuliffe's single and Dick Brown's bunt hit.

The Angels cashed in against Herbert with one out in the last of the ninth when pinch hitter Tom Burgess hit a bases-loaded sacrifice fly. Herbert yielded only four hits in the tough loss.

Osteen allowed only three hits until the Orioles rallied for their lone run with two out in the ninth.

Joe Hicks provided the Senators big punch. He tripled off Robin Roberts in the seventh, scored the game's first run on Bob Johnson's single, and hit a clinching homer in the top of the ninth.

Terry, now 7-4, struck out 10 ninth against Dick Hall.

Named General Manager

Gottlieb Stays With Warriors

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Eddie Gottlieb disproved the saying that so the franchise could operate in you can't have your cake and eat San Francisco. Now he becomes its general manager for at least a year here.

He sold the Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball

And he conceivably could be come president of the pro loop since Maurice Podoloff has announced plans to retire after next season.

Gottlieb's appointment with the San Francisco Warriors was announced Wednesday night by Matty Simmons of New York, one of the five partners in the new corporate setup and chairman of its board.

Undisclosed was the salary for Gottlieb, who founded the Warriors 16 years ago in Philadelphia. San Franciscan Tom Gray takes over as president of the club.

CLASS F

Shaffer Ford broke into the win column after two losses by edging Eljer 2-1 in Class F play.

The winners scored line tallies in the first and last innings to claim the victory. Eljer's lone score was in the sixth.

Larry Fester and Don Wolfgang shared pitching chores for Shaffer's with Fester getting credit for the win. Gary Goddard was on the mound for the losers.

The losers outhit their opponents 8-4 with Chuck Montgomery connecting for a double, while all Shaffer batsmen could manage were singles.

In another Class F battle, Electric Furnace bombed Farmers Bank 19-2 behind the two-hit pitching of Bob Rozeski and Joe Max.

The winners shoved across six runs in the top of the first, added two in the second, three in the third and four in each of the fourth and fifth innings.

Chuck Alexander led the Electric Furnace crew at the plate, banging out a double and three singles in five trips. The winners ended the game with 14 hits.

Class G

In the lone Class G game slated for last night, the Fire Department scored in all but one inning to dump Scott's Sports 11-1.

Lou Markovich paced the winners' six-hit attack as he blasted a homer and a single. John Yingling singled in the third and again in the sixth to account for two of the loser's three hits.

Bob Bentley pitched for the Fire House crew, fanning eight opposing batsmen, while trying to yield a base-on-balls. Jack K Brantingham suffered the loss.

Class H

Home Furniture and the Moose Lodge moved out in front in Class H as a result of action last night. Home Furniture routed Merchants Vending 16-1 and the Moose Lodge defeated the Jaycees 11-5 to keep unblemished records in three starts.

Leading by just three runs (4-1) going into the fourth inning, Home Furniture exploded for 12 to turn its game with Merchants Vending into a rout.

Five pitchers went to the mound for the losers in an attempt to stop the onslaught but it was to no avail, as the Furniture batsmen collected 11 safeties. Jeff Zimmerman pitched for the winners, allowing just two hits.

Danny Koch proved the power man for the winners. He struck out his first time at bat but swatted three triples in as many times to the plate after that.

One of the two hits Zimmerman gave up was a four-bagger to Rich Cranmer in the third inning.

The Moose Lodge outscored its opponents 4-2 in the first inning and was never headed after that.

Jay Youtz banged out two doubles to pace the winners, while Dusty Rhodes smacked a two-bagger for the loser's only extra-base hit.

Odom's Routs Italian Club To Grab 'A' Softball Lead

Odom's Sohio moved into undisputed possession of first place in the Class A softball league last night by knocking off the Italian Club 10-2 at Kelley Field.

The two clubs had been deadlocked for the loop lead with 4-1 records. The defeat knocked Italian Club into third place, behind idle Lisbon Hotel which has a 3-1 mark.

In the only other game played last night, Shaffer Ford (2-3) nipped winless Bliss (0-5) by a score of 6-5.

ODOM'S TALLIED three runs in the second inning and exploded for seven more in the third to rout its foe last night. Italian Club had jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the third to rout its foes for last night. Italian Club had jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the first frame, but Odom hurler Bill Panzott settled down and blanked them on three singles the rest of the way.

Italian Club tallied its two runs on three singles and two walks in the opening inning. Larry Ingledue started the trouble with a double after Panzott had forced Jerry Jefferies, Jim Smith, Ju Alek and Panzott all hit singles in Odom's seven-run uprising in the third.

Arnold Palmer Heads Field In Classic Golf Tourney

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
CLIFTON, N.J. (AP)—A group of amateur golf promoters starts out today to break a metropolitan attendance jinx while some strictly professional players try to break Arnold Palmer's grip on Golf's money bags.

The first $100,000 Classic tournament at the Upper Montclair

Country Club appears to have all the elements to make it a box office success—including Palmer, a golfer of great wealth and ability who appeals tremendously to spectators.

But the records show that in a decade or more, the only pro tournaments in the New York Metropolitan area to draw really big crowds were two U.S. opens—at Baltusrol in 1954 and at Winged Foot in 1959. In 1955 both the Cavalcade of Golf at Westfield, N.J., and the Long Island Rotary open brought disappointingly small crowds and were abandoned.

The field of about 140 also includes the current Open and PGA champions, Gene Littler and Jerry Barber, the entire 1961 U.S. Ryder Cup team, and pros Gary Player of South Africa, Kel Nagle and Bruce Crampton of Australia and Stan Leonard and Al Balding from Canada.

Kennedy Vague on U.S. Aid to South Viet Nam

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is probably no activity in which the Kennedy administration has been so vague—or silent—as on the economic and military aid it is giving South Viet Nam.

The United States, under the Kennedy and Eisenhower administrations combined, has put about $2 billion in aid into South Viet Nam in its fight against Communist guerrillas.

President Kennedy has sent a force of perhaps 6,000 military men there, plus various kinds of military equipment, including about 80 helicopters.

Exact information on the equipment, the men, and what they're doing is supposed to be classified technically as a military secret.

The French, before they gave up, held South Viet Nam as a colony. Now the country, with its own government under President Diem, is in effect a dictatorship. The Communist guerrillas had been making a lot of progress.

When Kennedy was a senator he emphasized repeatedly that South Viet Nam needed economic aid and reforms to give the masses of the people a tangible reason for opposing the Communists and their promises.

Last October Kennedy sent his military adviser, Gen. Maxwell Taylor, over there to see what was needed. Last December, after Taylor's return, the administration let out this information:

That military help to Viet Nam would be increased and that the Diem government had agreed to a dozen new steps—including social reforms and more representative government—to make the anti-Communist fight tougher.

Everything since then—on the subject of reforms—has been extremely vague.

But what kind of help the American military forces are giving

South Vietnamese has also been extremely shadowy. Kennedy has said this is a sensitive subject. Here are some bits of information picked out of AP stories which have come out of South Viet Nam in the past six months about the American military role there.

American fliers ferry South Vietnamese troops in helicopters to the battle zone. U.S. pilots are in the cockpits of Vietnamese fighting planes, instructing Diem's pilots in "the learn while you fight" principle.

Further: U.S. advisers are in the jungles, marshes and forests, working with Vietnamese commanders down to the company level. And one AP dispatch reported a U.S. Army field grade officers as saying:

"Our people are fighting along with the Vietnamese, counterpart to counterpart."

"American servicemen are being shot at by the Communist Viet Cong and they are shooting back. We're supplying arms and equipment and we're fighting and, if that isn't war, I don't know what is."

GET SAFETY AWARDS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Department of Highway Safety and 17 Ohio communities have been cited for their traffic safety efforts in 1961 by the National Safety Council and the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administration.

Receiving certificates from the two organizations were Cincinnati, Cleveland, East Cleveland, Dayton, Fairfield, Findlay, Galion, Hubbard, Lockland, Logan, Rocky River, South Euclid, Shaker Heights, Toledo, Warren, Wooster and Wyoming.

Arkansas' Crawford County was named for William H. Crawford, U.S. secretary of war in 1815.

9th Dead Infant Found In Akron

Union Men Deny Charges of Libel

CLEVELAND (AP)—The number of dead infants a funeral home operator is accused of failing to bury has risen to nine. Police have found another body in the rear of the funeral home.

Eight bodies were discovered Tuesday. The home's operator led them to the ninth Wednesday. Police said the body was not there when they searched the room June 20.

Clarence D. Irby, 37, manager of the funeral home, is free on $300 bond. He is to appear for arraignment on a suspicion charge June 20.

Police Capt. Carroll Cutright said Irby admitted Wednesday he had put the bodies there and "just didn't get around to burying them." Cutright also quoted Irby as saying he hadn't buried them because he hadn't been paid.

All the babies were still born except one, police said. The bodies, according to hospital tags found on them, had accumulated between July 1959 and last January.

Clyde Falor, Akron relief director, said his department had arranged for burials for four infants through the funeral home and had paid for three. Cutright said burial for at least one baby, and probably others, was paid through the relief program.

Five bodies have been definitely identified, and police will contact parents soon, Cutright said.

Police said Leon Evans of Akron claimed the latest baby found was born to his wife prematurely. The baby died Feb. 4, four days after birth, he said. Detectives said the infant hadn't been embalmed.

While pitching for the Washington Senators (1907-1927) Walter Johnson won 38 games by the score of 1-0.

The suit charged that Converse and other officials published the report in an effort to discredit the rebel members.

The eight denied knowledge of any plot against Delaney and said Columbus police were not given any such information and did not provide protection for Delaney.

Converse and other Local 18 officers are running for election in the state-wide organization from June 10 to 20. Converse, 76, has held top office in the union for 40 years.

DENIES ARSON CHARGES

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Richard A. Humanski, 26, of Girard has pleaded innocent to four charges of arson covering fires in automobiles in December and January. State arson investigator Michael J. Melillo and Girard police chief Leo Moran said Humanski had signed statements in which he admitted he set more than 40 car fires since Dec. 10, 1961.

A word from

Old Country Store

Perhaps some of you are tired reading about the fight against trading stamps but if the independent grocer is to survive, now is the time that he must act. This latest stamp plan is very vicious in as much as it is dominated by the giant of giants and they are using the other independent merchants (non grocers) to help them to denounce us. I for one plan to give them at least a minor case of indigestion while they are doing it.

Questions—Answers

Q—What is the symbol of the shamrock?

A—Loyalty, also a Christian symbol for the Trinity.

Q—Has any Negro ever served a full term in the U.S. Senate?

A—Yes, Blanche Kelso Bruce of Mississippi, 1875 to 1881.

Q—which star is closest to our solar system?

A—Proxima Centauri, in the constellation of Centaurus.

Florida Court Rules On Bible 'Reading In Public Schools

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) —

The Florida Supreme Court has upheld the right of Florida schools to have daily Bible reading and recitation of the Lord's Prayer. In a strongly worded unanimous decision, the court said that a state law requiring Bible readings did not violate constitutional provisions for separation of church and state.

The decision is expected to be appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The case originated in Miami, where a group composed of Jews, a Unitarian and an agnostic challenged the Dade County schools' practice of holding daily Bible readings, with provision for excusing children whose parents object.

Principals John Lewis of Lincoln School spoke briefly. Gretchen Frew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Frew of E. Chestnut St., and Bruce Armstrong, son of Rev. and Mrs. C. O. Armstrong of S. Vine St., were given the American Legion "outstanding student" awards by Atty. Charles Pike, representing John J. Welsh Post.

Jayne Chapman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Edgar Chapman of Harrison St., and Armstrong won the D.A.R. history award presented by Miss Dora Lones, representing Lewis Kinney Chapter. All award winners received certificates and medals.

Gary Pike, basketball coach and counselor, spoke on "Preparing For High School."

Theodore Greener, band director, presented the junior high band composed of 7th and 8th graders and they played several selections.

A dance in the Lincoln School all-purpose room last evening completed the day's activities for the 8th graders.

Fire officials identified the dead as Charles Franklin Neiswender, 27, and his children, Natalie, 6; Kathleen, 5; Charles, 4; Karl, 3, and Terry, 1.

Neiswender's wife Peggy, was treated for burns and shock at Lebanon's Good Samaritan Hospital.

She told firemen her husband had told her to jump from a window of the family's five-room, one-story frame cottage and he would take care of the children. Mrs. Neiswender said she did not see her husband or children again as flames swept the building. She ran to the home of neighbors, who called firemen.

Committee At OSU Asks For New Setup

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Novice G. Fawcett, president of Ohio State University, has received a voluminous report calling for academic reorganization of the institution.

The recommendations came from a permanent planning committee composed of faculty members who studied the university's academic structure for two years.

The recommendations, which will not be acted upon until next fall, include:

1. Eliminating the College of Arts and Sciences and establishing four new undergraduate colleges.
2. Establishing a university college in which all students would be enrolled their first two years, and,
3. Admitting students to the degree-granting colleges only on attainment of junior standing.

The four new undergraduate colleges would be called the College of the Humanities, the College of the Life Sciences, the College of Physical Sciences, and the College of Social Sciences.

Fawcett asked the entire faculty to study to the proposals and offer any suggestions they might have.

Yugoslavia won the gold medal in the 1960 soccer Olympiad.
